

Gallup: Majority Says Obama Not 'Honest and Trustworthy'

June 12, 2014 - 1:55 PM

By Terence P. Jeffrey

(CNSNews.com) - Fifty-one percent of the Americans who responded to a Gallup poll conducted June 5-8 said that they do not believe the phrase "is honest and trustworthy" applies to President Barack Obama.

Gallup has asked Americans this question eight times over the last six years: "Thinking about the following characteristics and qualities, please say whether you think each applies or doesn't apply to Barack Obama. How about: Is honest and trustworthy."

The latest poll, conducted June 5-8, was the first time that a majority said the description "is honest and trustworthy" does not apply to Obama.

The poll surveyed 1,027 adults and had a margin of error of +/- 4 points, which means that as many as 55 percent or as few as 47 percent may believe the description "is honest and trustworthy" does not apply to Barack Obama.

Source URL: <http://cnsnews.com/news/article/terence-p-jeffrey/gallup-majority-says-obama-not-honest-and-trustworthy>