

Food crisis means skipped meals, weight loss

The percentage of Venezuelans reporting eating two or fewer meals per day nearly tripled between 2015 and 2016 – and 72.7 percent said they lost weight in the past year, dropping an average of 19 pounds.

Venezuelans reporting eating two or fewer meals per day

Source: Venezuela's Living Conditions Survey